

There is no justifiable reason for restricting digital media access more than analog media. Consumers should have the same rights to time-shift, etc. broadcasts as they do now. Corporate interests DO NOT deserve the ability to trump the rights of citizens in the name of "anti-piracy". Most people consider their time worth more than the effort it takes to pirate entertainment. Stand up for consumers... once.